Assembly Awaits Bricker's Budget Speech

STATE'S SCHOOL DEBT PROVIDES MAJOR PROBLEM

Drastic Slashes For Various Offices Loom; No New Taxes Expected

PAROLE BOARD BILL READY

Military Affairs Committee Studies House-Approved 'Ripper' Act

COLUMBUS, March 27 — A larger, but all-inclusive budget will be revealed to the general assembly and as many citizens as can crowd into the gallery of the house tonight when Governor John W. Bricker makes his second appearance before a joint legislative session.

The governor's address, which will be broadcast, will be the signal for the legislature to start work on one of the most important items in the administration program.

Pledged to operate state government on an economy basis without the imposition of new taxes, Bricker will impress on senators and representatives the importance of saving approximately $3,000,000 a year to be apportioned on the school foundation debt.

Liquidation of this debt, estimated at $17,000,000, was one of the major headaches left with the 93rd general assembly by the last legislature.

Reductions Bring Problem

Drastic reductions in appropriations for state departments were viewed with trepidation by department heads as they figured methods of operating with stagnated staffs and fewer dollars.

When Bricker completes his dissertation on economy the house will consider a senate-approved bill to change the setup of the conservation division. If passed, the measure would provide for a new nine-member conservation council with power to name a commissioner.

Abolishment of the present parole board of four members and substitution of a three-member board will be taken up by the senate tomorrow, while the military affairs committee was expected to begin hearings this week on a bill abolishing life tenure of the adjutant-general. The proposal was approved by the house last week.

15 FEARED LOST ON CABIN YACHT OFF WEST COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27—Five men were reported missing today in a 38-foot cabin launch which they had chartered to take them to Sacramento.

The men comprised the handball team of the South End Rowing club. They left San Francisco aboard the chartered launch Sierra at 8:30 a. m. yesterday for Sacramento, where they were due to arrive at 1:30 p. m. San Francisco police stated that no word had been heard of them. The amateur athletes were to play the Sacramento Elks in a series of games at the capital.

Officials said the trip was being made to give the huge, four-motor ship a thorough shake-down to show up any hidden weakness, and to familiarize the ground crews at the bases it will touch during its forthcoming scheduled crossings, in mooring and servicing it.

Captain Gray kept in radio communication with the company's Baltimore offices throughout the night. Crew members accompanying him were Capt. A. E. Leporte, first officer and pilot; A. E. Kalowski, second officer and pilot; J. W. Walker, third officer and pilot; Horace Brock and L. C. Lindsey, flight officers; C. D. Wright, D. R. Comish and S. M. Kritser engineering officers; A. W. Beidman and R. P. Dutton, radio officers, and William Thaler, steward.

The committee ordered a favorable report to the senate after considering, in executive session, a unanimous recommendation of its subcommittee that Douglas' nomination be approved.

Douglas was appointed by President Roosevelt to fill a vacancy on the court created by the retirement of Associate Justice Louis D. Brandeis.

The committee's action on Douglas' nomination came after only 15 minutes of discussion.

Senate confirmation of the youngest man to be appointed to the high court in a century, was expected to come quickly and overwhelming.

Both Republicans and Democrats have joined to praise Douglas' appointment to the court.

From Tuskegee, Mr. Roosevelt will motor to Auburn to pay his respects to Alabama Polytechnic Institute. Another informal word of greeting was scheduled there.

A third brief stop will be made at Opelika, Ala., and the presidential motorcade is scheduled to arrive at Warm Springs late Thursday afternoon.

Barring critical developments in the foreign situation, the president plans to remain at his "other home" in Georgia until April 10.

"Yankee" Makes 2,880-Mile Water Jump In 17 Hours, 33 Minutes

Big Ship Preparing For Regular Service Over Ocean

BALTIMORE, March 27—Pan American Airways' Yankee clipper today wrote another page in aviation history by successfully negotiating the 2,880-mile water hop from Baltimore to Horta in the Azore islands, in 17 hours and 33 minutes.

The Baltimore offices of the company announced that the 42-ton, 74-passenger giant flying boat, radioed it landed at Horta at 8:07 a. m. (Circleville time).

The clipper's average speed was about 165 miles an hour, well beyond the ship's 150-mile-an-hour cruising speed. The big boat was aided by tail winds all the way. Capt. Harold Gray reported.

The flight to Horta was the first leg of the clipper's Atlantic crossing, preparatory to regular commercial trans-Atlantic service.

The men comprised the handball team of the South End Rowing club. They left San Francisco aboard the chartered launch Sierra at 8:30 a. m. yesterday for Sacramento, where they were due to arrive at 1:30 p. m. ## OHIO EXAMINERS SENT TO CHECK PAYROLL LISTS

COLUMBUS, March 27—Four state examiners were ordered to the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation today by State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson to question under oath all employees as to why several hundred names do not appear on the payrolls.

The examiners were in charge of Edward R. Dunlap. The other three are Paul O'Brien, William Paschel and Frank B. Warren.

Referring to a statement attributed to Herschel C. Atkinson, administrator of the Unemployment Compensation bureau, to the effect that several women employees have not been paid for so long they were fainting from under-nourishment, Ferguson said:

"If girls are fainting or starving, it is the fault of the Unemployment Compensation department, not ours."

He added that payrolls have not been held up but that several complaints have been received from U. C. C. employees that they had not received their salaries since last December.

"We have been unable to find the names of several hundred workers on the payroll," Ferguson declared, "and that is the reason why I have sent these examiners into the department."

The auditor said he would write to Congressman Martin L. Sweeney in Washington today requesting a congressional investigation of the bureau.

London Reports Nazi Troops Going Through Pass To Duce's Land

LONDON, March 27—German troops have been pouring through the Brenner Pass into Italy for the last week, the Daily Telegraph reported from Geneva today.

In Rome the report was officially branded "ridiculous."

The Telegraph said the pass was closed to civilian traffic to permit the passage of troop and munitions trains, most of which were believed en route to Libya, Italy's North African colony adjoining France's Tunisia. The estate is estimated at $4,500.

BERTHA BABB ESTATE IN TRUST FOR HER CHILDREN

The will of Bertha Hulse Babb, late of New Holland, admitted to probate Saturday, leaves her estate in trust to H. White Campbell, Williamsport, for the benefit of her three children, Richard, Betty and Mary Joan until they reach 21 years of age respectively. The estate is estimated at $4,500.

The doctor arranged, at his own expense, to have the boy and his mother brought from Pennsylvania by plane and the treatments were begun immediately.

Today, to a layman's eye, Harold looked considerably more alive than the wan youngster who was carried into the hospital so recently and the doctors—although they are not predicting anything—look considerably pleased at his reaction to the treatments.

Negotiations To Be Opened,
But Not While Troops
Are On Foreign Soil

to Daladier's speech answering Mussolini.

Censorship Considered

The ministers were reported to have spent part of today's long session discussing drastic press censorship measures. They also took up the status of refugees in France in case of war, particularly the large number of German exiles.

It was understood that the cabinet was in substantial agreement with the premier's attitude toward the Franco-Italian situation.

But any suggestion that Daladier will offer to open negotiations with Italy immediately was described authoritatively as "fantastic."

Conversations remain impossible
so long as Italy claims predominance in the Mediterranean and Adriatic, it was explained, so long as the Italian attitude of belliger-ence persists, and so long as there are Italian troops in Spain.

The general opinion in Paris is that Mussolini seriously desires French-Italian conversations to start, for Il Duce is believed to fear that, if he fails in his present objectives, Italy will be thrown irrevocably into the arms of Germany, and all his chances to preserve Italy's bargaining position between the Reich and the Western Powers will be gone.

France today breathed much easier because Mussolini did not echo earlier demands in the Italian press for Nice, Corsica, and Savoy.

That France later will be willing to discuss the colonial question with Italy was borne out in Paris newspapers.

ROME, March 27—Italy today waited hopefully for France to make the first move towards granting colonial concessions to Rome, under Premier Benito Mus-solini's threat that if conciliation does not come soon, the Franco-Italian breach will become too wide to be bridged.

Because Il Duce's speech, in spite of its bellicose bluster, was generally regarded as conciliatory, diplomatic quarters felt it held promise of early conversations with France—perhaps even as soon as this week.

Mussolini's demands on France extended only to Tunisia, the Suez Canal, and Djibouti. Speaking to a quarter million persons on the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Fascist combat squads, he made no reference to the more extravagant cries of the Fascist press for Nice, Savoy, and Corsica.

In his long-awaited pronouncement, Il Duce said that the victory of Gen. Franco in Spain, now at hand, afforded the opportunity for beginning Franco-Italian negotiations, and by implication he showed that Italy did not require full control of the Mediterranean.

SCOUT TROOP'S MASTER NAMED IN GUN CHARGES

WESTFIELD, Mass., March 27—A scoutmaster with a butcher-knife stabb'd in the throat and a boy member of the troop with a bullet wound in the head were in critical condition in Noble hospital today.

Harris L. Blanchard, 26, the scoutmaster, allegedly confessed, according to state police, that he fired the shot which wounded Edward Leclair, 16, at a camp in West Granville, and then attempted to end his own life with a knife.

Blanchard was charged in a warrant with assault with intent to murder. State police refused to divulge the motive for the shooting.

There had been a scout meeting at the camp, and Blanchard and the boy remained alone after the others left.

NAZIS CHARGE POLISH UNABLE TO KEEP PEACE

FIVE PROPOSALS AWAITING CLOSE OF SPAIN'S WAR

Negotiations To Be Opened, But Not While Troops Are On Foreign Soil

Censorship Considered

The ministers were reported to have spent part of today's long session discussing drastic press censorship measures. They also took up the status of refugees in France in case of war, particularly the large number of German exiles.

It was understood that the cabinet was in substantial agreement with the premier's attitude toward the Franco-Italian situation.

But any suggestion that Daladier will offer to open negotiations with Italy immediately was described authoritatively as "fantastic."

Conversations remain impossible so long as Italy claims predominance in the Mediterranean and Adriatic, it was explained, so long as the Italian attitude of belligerence persists, and so long as there are Italian troops in Spain.

The general opinion in Paris is that Mussolini seriously desires French-Italian conversations to start, for Il Duce is believed to fear that if he fails in his present objectives, Italy will be thrown irrevocably into the arms of Germany, and all his chances to preserve Italy's bargaining position between the Reich and the Western Powers will be gone.

SWAP OF COTTON SURPLUS FOR RUBBER SUGGESTED

AKRON, March 27—A proposal that the United States swap cotton—of which it has a surplus—for crude rubber, was advanced today by P. W. Litchfield, president of Goodyear Tire & Rubber company, in his annual report to stockholders.

Litchfield told the stockholders that the present national supply of crude rubber is sufficient only for an average five months consumption and has been declining. Outbreak of a war would bring a sharp scarcity and immediately affect shipments of rubber to the United States, he said.

NAZIS CHARGE POLISH UNABLE TO KEEP PEACE

BERLIN, March 27—A semi-official announcement, issued in Berlin today, expressed "amazement" over the alleged fact that Polish authorities are unable to check anti-German demonstrations in the Polish corridor, the area separating the main body of Germany from the province of East Prussia.

Meantime, the semi-official German news agency, DNB, joined a growing chorus of press criticism against alleged Polish inability to maintain order in the corridor area taken from the Reich at the end of the World War.

In a dispatch from Bydgoszcz (Bromberg) within the corridor, the agency indicated growing friction between Germans and Poles and asserted that Polish police were scarcely able to protect the property of members of the German minority against attacks by Polish nationalists.

German women and children have been beaten on several recent occasions for speaking the German language, it was charged.

Come what may, Germany will continue to back Italy 100 percent.

This was the substance of official reaction today to the speech of Premier Mussolini asking colonial concessions from France.

The Reich "fully sympathizes" with Il Duce's attitude, it was stated here, as authorities applauded his strong reaffirmation of the Rome-Berlin axis, and his endorsement of powerful armaments.

Conflicting Dates Result In Smaller Entry List Than Usual

William Cosner of Gulfport, Miss., a trainer well known to Pickaway countians through his numerous trips to the annual field trials, took top honors in the professional stakes of the Spring field trial of the Pickaway County Bird Dog club held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Yellowbud.

His dogs took first and second in the open all age event, third in the open derby, and second in the open puppy stakes. A total of 51 dogs was run in the events. Amateur stakes were held Sunday. Results of the various events are: open all age, 1. Boom-A-Dair handled by Cosner; 2. Whizaway, handled by Cosner, and 3. divided by Comanche Tex, handled by Spahr, and Hoosier Lizzie's Boy Nip, handled by Jack Carr, Brownsville, Tenn. There were 10 dogs in this event.

Open derby: 1. Armco, handled by W. D. Hinson, Huntington, W. Va.; 2. Melbachapaco, handled by Carr, and 3. Hawk's Spectre Asthma, handled by Cosner. The entry list included nine dogs.

MAN WHO SLEW LITTLE BOY GOES TO DEATH CHAIR

BELLEFONTE, Pa., March 27—Confidently awaiting his 16th reprieve up until the very last minute, Roy Lockard, 27, mentally deficient "tattle tale slayer" of three-year-old Matthew "Sonny" Karmendi, early today went to his death in the electric chair.

Since June, 1936, the killer had been under sentence of death, but was reprieved 14 times by former Governor George H. Earle and then once again by Governor Arthur H. James. Today he became the 32nd person to die in the commonwealth's electric chair.

He was convicted of the brutal railroad spike slaying along with Mrs. Margaret Karmendi, his sweetheart and mother of the dead child. The state claimed that Mrs. Karmendi held the child in her arms while Lockard wielded the spike because tiny "Sonny" tattooed about their date. Mrs. Karmendi is serving a prison term at Muncy, Pa.

HINES FIGHTING IMMEDIATE TRIP TO PENITENTIARY

NEW YORK, March 27—Another courtroom battle to determine whether James J. Hines, the Tammany leader convicted of supplying protection to the Dutch Schultz numbers gang, is to be hustled off to Sing Sing to start his four to eight year term or win freedom on bail, was scheduled for today.

The decision on the request of Hines' attorney for a certificate of reasonable doubt which if granted would release Hines on bail may be decided before nightfall. If the motion is granted, Hines will remain at liberty until late Fall because the usual Summer recesses will delay a decision on his fight for a new trial until that time at least. If the motion is refused, Hines may leave for Sing Sing with the first contingent of prisoners.

Women of today are not the heavy eaters their mothers were. Current figures prove that.

County-Wide Pest Hunt Is Under Consideration

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Phone, Ashville 79

The pest hunt over in Williamsport territory, was such a success that another, county wide, is in the talking stage, so it was given out at headquarters. And so sure that this future hunt is to be put into operation that Cecil Noecker drove all the way over to New London to secure a pair of ferrets and be ready should an emergency arise to use them. He says for some reason rats are plentiful now and do much damage.

Mr. Noecker says that the party from whom he secured his pair of ferrets raises thousands of the little animals each year and has been in the business for many years.

Mrs. Merl Valentine and little Miss Sherry of Columbus, spent the week-end with Mrs. Valentine's parents, Hal and Mrs. Reid. Mrs. C. W. Squire visiting her son Emerson in New York City for several days, has returned home.

ASHVILLE—This is the year when township, village and school board officers are to be elected. The very next time our Court at headquarters is in session, we'll be finding out about this election business. Whose time is out and when, and what you have to do to get in and be it. And we'll be telling you about what we hear.

ASHVILLE—If we have it right, the 26th of March, 1913, Walnut creek flood water was at its highest stage. The Scioto river bridge was swept away in this flood. And surely, while recalling the destruction of this bridge, William Bolender told us that he was the first to cross over the present new bridge with horse and conveyance. The Cromley Bridge at the edge of the village, was swept away by flood water in the Spring 1907 but withstood the deluge of '13.

ASHVILLE—Four years ago, March 27, the first water was pumped out at the water plant pumping station, Cecil Scott, superintendent of waterworks told us. And on April 1, of that year, Ashville received its first water service in then about 180 homes. There are now 238 meters at an average cost of five dollars per each three months' service for a 7,000-gallon usage. Only about 25 meters at the present reading showed that

FINAL ACTION AWAITED

Four Other Employees Of Prison May Face Removal

COLUMBUS, March 27—While James C. Woodard, ousted head of Ohio penitentiary, prepared to answer 22 charges filed against him, W. F. Amrine, acting warden of the prison, was expected today to take final action against four suspended employees of the institution.

Amrine declined comment on whether he planned to file removal charges against Col. William J. Walker, assistant deputy warden, and two guards, Thomas Joyce and John B. Farley. All are protected by civil service. Another guard, James C. Woodard, Jr., the former penal official's son, also was suspended but was a provisional employee. He was expected to be fired outright.

Meanwhile Woodard planned to confer with his attorneys, Fred C. Rector and Maj. Winfield Scott Pealer tomorrow to draw up an answer to accusations made by Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood, by whom he was discharged Saturday.

Among other things, Sherwood declared Woodard had been guilty of permitting the sale of liquor, drugs and marijuana to convicts and had shown favoritism to prisoners of wealth and political standing.

She has sold her castle in the Austrian Tyrol and has taken her eldest son, Peter Salm, 14, who is part Austrian, to Switzerland to complete his education. Her other two children, Arturo Henry, 9, and Paul Jaime, 7, whose father was her second husband, Arturo Peralta Ramos, are also in Switzerland, she notified her friends here.

Fear that Nazi Germany might claim Peter as a native son despite his American birth was believed to have motivated Mrs. Balcom.

A New Yorker who was exempt from paying income tax sent the government a $10 bill anyway. Probably out of sheer gratitude that he didn't need to make out a blank.

Two Williamsport residents, Charles Pitt and Carl Morris, were fined $25 and costs each, $15 suspended on each fine, on charges of possessing fish spears.

The fines were imposed Saturday afternoon by Mayor W. B. Cady. Both made arrangements to pay. The charges were filed by Chalmer Burns, conservation officer of Washington C. H.

AT THE GRAND

Priscilla Lane and Jeffrey Lynn for charm, and Roland Young, May Robson, Fay Bainter, Genevieve Tobin and Ian Hunter for laughs—that's the dish of spicy entertainment that was set before the patrons of the Grand Theatre when "Yes, My Darling Daughter" opened there Sunday.

The new picture, banned by the Ohio Censor Board, which was produced by Warner Bros., was adapted by Casey Robinson from Mark Reed's very successful stage play of the same name, and it more than justifies the pleasurable anticipation which was aroused when the Warner studio bought the rights to the play.

As in the case of every good screen adaptation of a stage success, the motion picture version of "Yes, My Darling Daughter" demonstrates that a good show can be even better when made into a film. Particularly is this true about a comedy of this type, in which so much that is very amusing could only be told about on the stage but is actually depicted in hilarious detail on the screen.

AT THE CLIFTONA

The modern tempo of metropolitan life as it compares with that of two or three decades ago is cleverly revealed in a new picture of an old play, "Within the Law," which starts Wednesday at the Cliftona theatre.

This dramatic stage hit, which Bayard Veiller wrote in 1912, has become a vivid, ultra-modern picture with the advantages of contemporary technique. An audience in which there were many who remembered the play was enthusiastic over the picture at the initial showing.

Ruth Hussey, who plays the colorful role of Mary Turner, created by Jane Cowl, gives assurance of her ability beyond question in her first leading part. Tom Neal, another youthful aspirant, is excellent as Dick Gilder, the gay young son of a millionaire department store owner.

But when she and the boy are implicated in a crime she suddenly realizes that she loves him. All of her desire for revenge is gone. Garson, the heroic, but misguided gang leader, in love with her himself, steps in and takes the rap.

BULLET WOUND KILLS COLUMBUS RAIL MOTORMAN

COLUMBUS, March 27—Another murder was written into police records today following the death of Robert L. Hall, 48-year-old motorman who was shot by a Negro gunman during a street car robbery last night.

Although several suspects have been questioned, police have been unable to trace the identity of the bandit who boarded the car, grabbed a money changer from Hall's hand, and, without warning, fired a bullet into the victim's abdomen. Hall died in a hospital at midnight last night.

Meanwhile employees of the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric company's transportation department started to raise $500 to add to the reward for the killer's apprehension. The company pledged $500 immediately after the shooting.

His dogs took first and second in the open all age, third in the open all age, fourth in the open puppy stakes. A total of 51 dogs was run in the events. Amateur stakes were held Sunday. Open puppy: 1. Spectre Muggs, handled by Tyde Huston, Logan; 2. Virginia Tipster, handled by Cosner, and 3. Dizzie Lizzie, handled by Hinson. There were 14 dogs in the event.

Amateur all age: 1. Lizzie Willowing, owned by Dr. Kissane, Columbus; 2. Luellen, owned by Robert Will, McArthur, and Boom-A-Dair, owned by D'Atri.

Amateur derby: 1. Julianne, owned by Don Mack, Powell; 2. Gibb's Bingo, owned by J. L. Johnson, and 3. Abbreviation, owned by Mack. There were 15 dogs in the amateur all age and three in the derby.

Airstream Jake, pointer, owned by Ralph Leach, Circleville, and Good Bacon Rind, pointer, owned by Ted Mithoff, Lancaster, were run in the amateur all age. They were the only dogs owned by club members that were entered in any event.

MAN WHO SLEW LITTLE BOY GOES TO DEATH CHAIR

BELLEVONTE, Pa., March 27—Confidently awaiting his 16th reprieve up until the very last minute, Roy Lockard, 27, mentally deficient "tattle tale slayer" of three-year-old Matthew "Sonny" Karmendi, early today went to his death in the electric chair.

Since June, 1936, the killer had been under sentence of death, but was reprieved 14 times by former Governor George H. Earle and, then once again by Governor Arthur H. James. Today he became the 32nd person to die in the commonwealth's electric chair.

He was convicted of the brutal railroad spike slaying along with Mrs. Margaret Karmendi, his sweetheart and mother of the dead child. The state claimed that Mrs. Karmendi held the child in her arms while Lockard wielded the spike because tiny "Sonny" tattled about their date. Mrs. Karmendi is serving a prison term at Muncy, Pa.

HINES FIGHTING IMMEDIATE TRIP TO PENITENTIARY

NEW YORK, March 27—Another courtroom battle to determine whether James J. Hines, the Tammany leader convicted of supplying protection to the Dutch Schultz numbers gang, is to be hustled off to Sing Sing to start his four to eight year term or win freedom on bail, was scheduled for today.

The decision on the request of Hines' attorney for a certificate of reasonable doubt which if granted would release Hines on bail may be decided before nightfall. If the motion is granted, Hines will remain at liberty until late Fall because the usual Summer recesses will delay a decision on his fight for a new trial until that time at least. If the motion is refused, Hines may leave for Sing Sing with the first contingent of prisoners.

Women of today are not the heavy eaters their mothers were. Current figures prove that.

County-Wide Pest Hunt Is Under Consideration

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Phone, Ashville 79

The pest hunt over in Williamsport territory, was such a success that another, county wide, is in the talking stage, so it was given out at headquarters. And so sure that this future hunt is to be put into operation that Cecil Noecker drove all the way over to New London to secure a pair of ferrets and be ready should an emergency arise to use them. He says for some reason rats are plentiful now and do much damage.

A birthday dinner was held at Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stein's at Duvall in honor of Misses Metta Mae Hickman, Laura Belle Stein, Eloise Stein and Dorman Stein. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Stein of Stoutsville; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Figgins and sons, Donald and Dick of Lancaster; Mr. and Mrs. Basil Willoughby and family, Sam Willoughby of Orient; Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Hoffines, Joseph Hoover and daughter, Dolph Hickman, James Hickman of Ashville and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stein and family and Miss Bettie Hickman.

Mrs. Merl Valentine and Little Miss Sherry of Columbus, spent the week-end with Mrs. Valentine's parents, Hal and Mrs. Reid.

Mrs. C. W. Squire visiting her son Emerson in New York City for several days, has returned home.

Ashville—This is the year when township, village and school board officers are to be elected. The very next time our Court at headquarters is in session, we'll be finding out about this election business. Whose time is out and when, and what you have to do to get in and be it. And we'll be telling you about what we hear.

LOS ANGELES, March 27—Rain and a slippery highway were blamed by investigators today for the death of eight persons, including a family of five, and the injury of 11 when a light sedan spun into the front of an approaching interurban bus.

All of the dead were occupants of the automobile—Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Minkus, 70 and 68 respectively; a son, Isadore, 23; a daughter, Fannie, 18, a granddaughter, Mona, 3, and a nephew, Frank Garron, 21, of Chicago; Lina Rubin, 21, and Jerome Rapaport, 18.

Andrew Torbet, driver of the bus, said everything occurred so quickly he was not positive of just how yesterday's tragedy happened. Of the 16 persons on the large machine, only Torbet and four passengers escaped injury. Several witnesses expressed the opinion that the driver of the sedan was attempting to make a "U" turn and failed to see the bus.

DEADLY RACE PREJUDICE

A VISITOR from Mars, seeing those thousands of destitute Jews fleeing pitifully from Italy, through Alpine passes in sub-zero weather, many of them sick and hungry, might well ponder what great natural calamity drove them to such a fate. But Nature was not guilty, except in the form of human nature.

It was merely another example, all too common in these crazy years, of "man's inhumanity to man." Animals would not behave so cruelly as does "civilized man", under the stress of economic and racial necessity — or what he imagines to be necessity.

As most of us can see in happier lands, distant from the stresses and insanities of Europe, this sort of thing is not necessary at all. It is not sensible, logical or useful. It is a result of racial and religious prejudice and political propaganda. Dictators use such primitive procedure as part of their state policy.

The ablest scientists in the world today say that popular belief in racial superiority or inferiority is a myth. The race now so widely persecuted has produced some of the greatest and finest achievements of human civilization.

No race is under any compulsion to like or favor another, but surely every civilized race in the world today should feel obliged to be at least decent to other races and fair in its dealings with them. For the world grows very small, and we are pretty much all in the same boat, and the Devil may get us all if we do not develop more mutual understanding, tolerance and cooperation.

A SATISFIED IMMIGRANT

UNUSUALLY interesting, in the present state of the world, is the story of John M. Cook, a war veteran with a small pension and a little chicken farm in Peabody, Mass. He recently inherited a legacy of $93,000 in Germany.

John could use the money very nicely. His chickens don't bring in much income, and his daughter is sick in the hospital. But in order to avail himself of the inheritance he would have to go to Germany and spend it there. The family talked it over and decided to stay in America.

"I was born in Germany," he says, "and I have been all over the world, but I have yet to see as good a place to live in as the U. S. A."

In view of everything, particularly the present situation in Central Europe, most Americans would probably agree with this

World At A Glance

Senator Lynn J. Frazier of North Dakota and Representative U. S. Guyer of Kansas have a bill apiece in Congress seeking to re-prohibitionize the District of Columbia. This is the same old camel, trying again to get his snout under the tent flap. The camel won't succeed this time, but he's a persistent animal. The D. C. is a small area, nevertheless it's the main entrance to the national big top. With the critter's nose once entrenched in Washington, the whole critter is in a fair way to shoulder himself, hump and all, into the whole country. It happened thus in war days. There were plenty of dry states even then — more than at present. However, the dry idea was only local — statewide, or less so — until the District was offered as a good or awful example (depending on how one looks at the matter) of federal proportions.

No individual wet state previously had considered itself bound previously to pay any attention to the dry rule in Kansas, for instance. The Sunflower commonwealth, in fact, was regarded as a freak area, not to be taken too seriously.

But the District of Columbia, traditionally, has been looked at pitifully from Italy, through Alpine passes in sub-zero weather, many of them sick and hungry, might well ponder what great natural calamity drove them to such a fate. But Nature was not guilty, except in the form of human nature.

It was merely another example, all too common in these crazy years, of "man's inhumanity to man." Animals would not behave so cruelly as does "civilized man", under the stress of economic and racial necessity — or what he imagines to be necessity.

As most of us can see in happier lands, distant from the stresses and insanities of Europe, this sort of thing is not necessary at all. It is not sensible, logical or useful.
It is a result of racial and religious prejudice and political propaganda. Dictators use such primitive procedure as part of their state policy.

The ablest scientists in the world today say that popular belief in racial superiority or inferiority is a myth. The race now so widely persecuted has produced some of the greatest and finest achievements of human civilization.

No race is under any compulsion to like or favor another, but surely every civilized race in the world today should feel obliged to be at least decent to other races and fair in its dealings with them.
For the world grows very small, and we are pretty much all in the same boat, and the Devil may get us all if we do not develop more mutual understanding, tolerance and cooperation.

A SATISFIED IMMIGRANT

UNUSUALLY interesting, in the present state of the world, is the story of John M. Cook, a war veteran with a small pension and a little chicken farm in Peabody, Mass. He recently inherited a legacy of $93,000 in Germany.

John could use the money very nicely.
His chickens don't bring in much income,
and his daughter is sick in the hospital.
But in order to avail himself of the inheritance he would have to go to Germany and spend it there. The family talked it over and decided to stay in America.

"I was born in Germany," he says, "and I have been all over the world, but I have not seen as good a place to live in as the U. S. A."

In view of everything, particularly the present situation in Central Europe, most Americans would probably agree with this

GARNER, McNUTT FOR NOMINATION

WASHINGTON—At a recent meeting of Young Democratic Club leaders in Richmond, Va., it was blatantly apparent that two presidential candidates are already advancing their cause for the 1940 nomination. They are Jack Garner of Texas and Paul McNutt of Indiana.

The Garner booster is Earle B. Mayfield, Jr., son of former Senator Mayfield of Texas. He was amply supplied with funds, made it known that Richmond was only a way-station for him on an extensive tour of the country. He is attending every state convention of the Young Democratic Clubs to enlist Garner support.

All of this is done with Garner approval. When Mayfield came to Washington recently, Garner staged a private luncheon for him in the offices of the Secretary of the Senate, Colonel Halsey.

McNUTT'S YOUNG MEN

Even more gilded is the bankroll of the McNutt followers. They had the largest delegation at the Richmond convention, with more money than they could spend.
Their objective was to get Young Democratic leaders to promise McNutt a place on the program at the national convention in Pittsburgh March 10.

They got what they wanted—but could have had it without the effort, for YD officials make a point of giving a spot on the program to every presidential candidate.

The McNutt delegation at Richmond made it plain that they are out to make a big splash in Pittsburgh. They intend to send a delegation of 2,000 Hoosiers on a series of special trains, to make the Smoky City rub its eyes at the approach of the Great McNutt.

They boast a war chest of $1,500,000 for the McNutt candidacy, money allegedly raised by a 2 percent payroll assessment on all state office-holders in Indiana.

NOTE—Young Democrats believe that Jim Farley wants just one thing and he wants it bad—second place on the Democratic ticket. If Jim can be nominated Vice President, he doesn't much care who the Number One man is—Garner, Hull, McNutt, Barkley, Clark, Hopkins—but he prefers 69-year-old Hull.

patriot. With all our troubles, we are a fortunate land in an unfortunate world.

The Slovaks are said to be "startled" by their sudden freedom. But they needn't worry about governmental problems. Hitler will take care of all that.

Experts are asking how Germany can ever pay the enormous armament debt piled up by the Nazis. Oh, Hitler may adopt the old Hebrew Jubilee Year idea, and wipe the slate clean at the end of every half-century.

It's hard to get children into a bathtub,
and hard to get 'em out, says a harassed parent; in fact, everything about kids is hard; and the hardest thing of all is not having 'em around to pester you.

Charles P. Stewart

Senator Lynn J. Frazier of North Dakota and Representative U. S. Guyer of Kansas have a bill apiece in Congress seeking to re-prohibitionize the District of Columbia. This is the same old camel, trying again to get his snout under the tent flap.
The camel won't succeed this time, but he's a persistent animal.
The D. C. is a small area, nevertheless it's the main entrance to the national big top. With the critter's nose once entrenched in Washington, the whole critter is in a fair way to shoulder himself, hump and all, into the whole country. It happened thus in war days. There were plenty of dry states even then — more than at present. However, the dry idea was only local — statewide, or less so — until the District was offered as a good or awful example (depending on how one looks at the matter) of federal proportions.

No individual wet state previously had considered itself bound previously to pay any attention to the dry rule in Kansas, for instance. The Sunflower commonwealth, in fact, was regarded as a freak area, not to be taken too seriously.

But the District of Columbia, traditionally, has been looked at

as the entire republic's proving ground for all sorts of experimentation in legislation, regulation and taxation. This reputation has made it a weird place to live in.
Nevertheless, with no voice of their own in their domestic affairs, Washingtonians have had to submit. They do yet.

Washingtonian Prohibition Washingtonian prohibition having been decreed, prohibitionists immediately asserted that it was working perfectly. It wasn't true; I know, having lived under it.
But I've no doubt that prohibitionists believed it not, wanting a drink anyway.

Yet the American majority, being then prohibitionistic, chose to gulp the whole story down body — and we got wholesale prohibition mainly on the strength of Washington's trial of it.

As we know, a literal saturnalia of racketeering followed.

Joseph E. Keenan, under President Roosevelt, was appointed assistant attorney general, in the justice department, especially to fight the racketeers. Assuredly he did fight them, and probably understands them better than any prosecutor living.

I asked him then (he's recently retired), what caused it all? — prohibition? — the depression? — or what?

"Prohibition," he answered unequivocally. "It just shows what a bad law will do." Nevertheless he fought liquor racketeering like a wildcat. Just now, as previously

Poor man—he must have been awfully hungry!

GARDEN-GRAPH

Safety First Sponge for Flower Vase

Getting a vaseful of garden flowers to the flower show, or to a sick friend's bedside without having the flower wilt for lack of water, has always been a perplexing problem. Here, however, is a practical suggestion: Try using a safety first sponge in the container.

After the flowers have been arranged in a container of water, work a dry sponge into the neck of the container as shown in the above Garden-Graph. The sponge should be a long, narrow one that can be wedged around the flower stems.

With the safety first sponge in place, the vase of flowers can be

The dry sponge in the neck of the vase will absorb and hold any water which soaks up against it as the vase is handled or carried about.

Market-places in type

Think of a great market-place where farmers, merchants, clothiers, caterers stand and solicit your trade. All who make the clothes you wear, the furniture and draperies for your house, the medicines that keep you well, eagerly seek the chance to tell you of their wares.

Such, in effect, is the newspaper. Here, in a great market-place, set in type, manufacturers whose names you know ask for your patronage. By printed word, they tell you why this brand of corn flakes is superior . . . why this maple corner-cupboard is worth more than is asked . . . why the desk, the motor car, the life insurance, the book will add to your joy of living.

Heed the advertisements well. They have a message that will save you money, conserve your time and patience, richly reward you and your family.

Safety First Sponge for Flower Vase

Getting a vaseful of garden flowers to the flower show, or to a sick friend's bedside without having the flower wilt for lack of water, has always been a perplexing problem. Here, however, is a practical suggestion: Try using a safety first sponge in the container.

taken in an automobile, or carried by hand, without danger of the water slopping out of the container. The dry sponge in the neck of the vase will absorb and hold any water which slops up against it as the vase is handled or carried about.

Use Roman Cleanser. Directions for removing various kinds of stains are on the label. Roman Cleanser is a favorite wash-day aid because it saves the work and wear of hard rubbing and boiling. Try it and see for yourself. Quart bottle only 15¢—at grocers.

Market-places

in type

Think of a great market-place where farmers, merchants, clothiers, caterers stand and solicit your trade. All who make the clothes you wear, the furniture and draperies for your house, the medicines that keep you well, eagerly seek the chance to tell you of their wares.

Such, in effect, is the newspaper. Here, in a great market-place, set in type, manufacturers whose names you know ask for your patronage. By printed word, they tell you why this brand of corn flakes is superior . . . why this maple corner-cupboard is worth more than is asked . . . why the desk, the motor car, the life insurance, the book will add to your joy of living.

Heed the advertisements well. They have a message that will save you money, conserve your time and patience, richly reward you and your family.

Buckeye, Oregon Joust Awaited

EVANSTON, Ill., March 27—Approximately 400 of the nation's college basketball coaches will be among the spectators tonight when Ohio State and Oregon clash in Patten gymnasium at Northwestern university in Evanston to decide the national collegiate basketball championship.

The coaches are attending the annual convention of the National College Basketball Association.

Both teams are regarded as among the country's top scoring quintets, and outcome of the game was considered pretty much of a tossup as the records show they shape up on fairly even terms.

After week-end workouts, both squads were reported in fine condition for the fray, result of eastern and western eliminations.

Ohio State won the eastern play-offs in Philadelphia with victories over Villanova and Wake Forest, and Oregon won the coast play-offs with decisions over Texas and Oklahoma.

Oregon's Webfoots will go into the game with the reputation of being one of the best scoring combinations in the history of the West Coast. The team's leading point-getter, Laddie Gale, six-feet four inches tall, rolled up 379 points in 33 games this season. John Dick, the other forward and also six-four, tallied 216 points, and Urge Wintermute, the center, who towers six feet eight inches and counted 305. This impressive trio will be backed by Capt. Bob Anet and Wally Johansen, guards, both all-Pacific coast players.

The Buckeyes, Big Ten champions, boast a high scorer Capt. Jim Hull, who made 169 points to become the Big Ten's scoring king. Hull's mate at forward will be Dick Baker, while the rest of the starting lineup will have John Shick at center, and Dick Boughner and Bob Lynch, guards. Boughner and Lynch have the reputation of being as good a defensive combine as the Big Ten produced.

TURFDOM HONORS MAN O' WAR ON 22ND BIRTHDAY

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 27—Man O' War, the best loved chunk of horseflesh in or out of thoroughbred heaven, will be 22 years old Wednesday, March 29th.

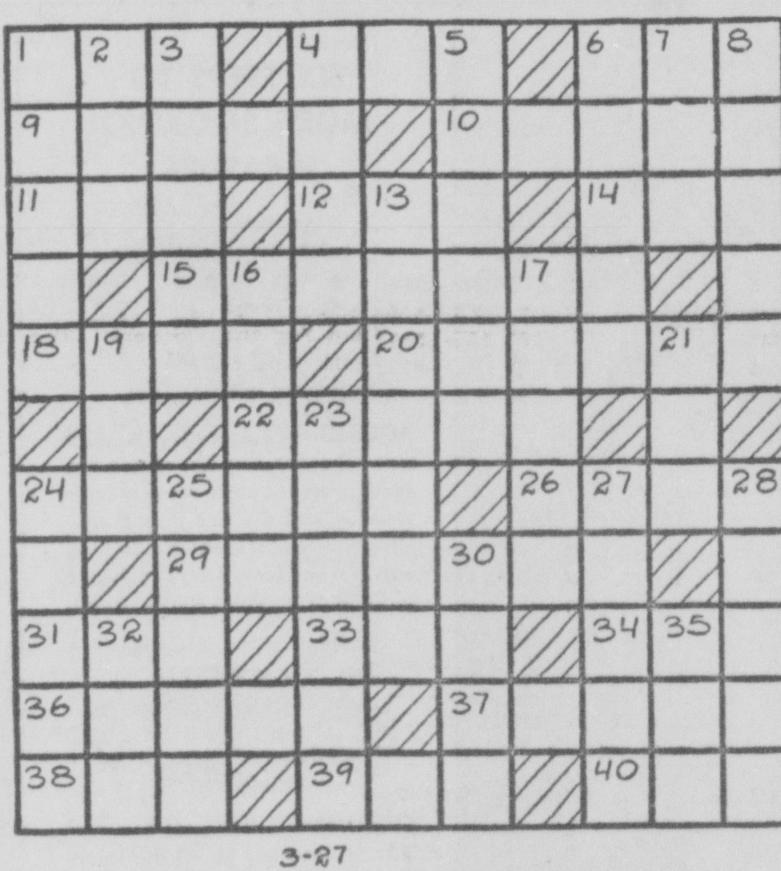

Around his polished hardwood stall will gather public officials, financiers and ordinary horse-lovers—all eager to pay homage to the daddy of nearly 275 foals, many of them among turfdom's greatest champs.

A cake with candles will be cut, and a wreath of carrots and corn will be draped over his shiny neck. Speeches will be made, and "Big Red," as the thoroughbred is known to intimates, will get a few extra tidbits for his patient participation in the yearly party.

The celebration will be a renewal of humanity's well-intended tribute to the charger of 1919 and 1920 who won 20 of 21 starts to garner $249,465, and who sired such big names as Crusader, Clyde Van Dusen, Scapa Flow, Battleship, and probably the greatest of them all—War Admiral.

Man O' War, though he has lived to a ripe old age, shows no signs of tiring. He recently heard his owners turn down a cool million dollars for him. And he has given to turfdom three more strapping foals already this season.

THREE SERVICES CONCLUDE WEEK OF U. B. CHURCH CENTENNIAL OBSERVANCE

BISHOP SPEAKS, ORGAN PLAYED AT DEDICATION

Thirteen Members For 50 Years Or Longer Honored
During Morning

Three services, Sunday, completed the week of anniversary services in the United Brethren church which has enjoyed a continuous existence for 100 years.

The speaker for the morning program was Bishop A. R. Clippinger, of Dayton, O. His subject was "The Well by the Gate." It was based on King David's cry in the heat of battle for a "drink from the well by the gate of Jerusalem." The bishop said that while there are many things we can secure there are others that are impossible for us to regain, such as one's youth, the former associations of home, the opportunities allowed to slip by unheeded.

"Some experiences," he pointed out, "are enjoyed only in memory. Age is a time of retrospect and the same is true of anniversaries. The present," he said, "offers a real challenge to lay well the foundations of character."

Thirteen persons who have been members of the church for 50 years or more were honored at this service with a gift of American Beauty roses by Miss Charlotte McEwing in memory of her mother and grandmother. Those honored were Mrs. Ella Lamaster, Mrs. Artie Rowe, Mrs. Dora Baker, Mrs. Maggie Smith, Mrs. Minnie Eldridge, Mrs. Rose Gard, George Denman, E. S. Neuding, Abraham May, Harry C. Baker, C. H. Eldridge, Mrs. Clara Denman and Mrs. Rose Hartman. There were 26 persons present who were more than 70 years of age. All were honored guests at the dinner served in the community house at noon.

Greetings Voiced

At the 2 p. m. fellowship service, greetings were brought by the Revs. L. S. Metzler, Circleville; O. W. Smith, Ashville; O. W. Stockman, Waverly; Robert Gehres, Rushville; Ernest Seymour, Carroll and C. F. Bowman, pastor of the Circleville Methodist church.

Letters of greeting were read from the Rev. Ewing Ross of Vanderbilt university; the Rev. Peter Wagner of Cedar Rapids, Ia., a former pastor, and the Rev. William Kuhen, a former member of the church now associate rector of St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church of Chicago. A number of visiting members were recognized and spoke briefly. Among them were Mrs. C. H. Denman, Mrs. O. W. Johnson, Mrs. O. E. Fellows, Miss Etta Hanna, and Mrs. Edna Brown of Columbus; Denny Fuller of Oxford, O.; Fred Holland of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. W. L. Kuhen of Chillicothe and Thomas Shepherd of Robtown.

The Rev. P. E. Wright of Lancaster delivered the main address. The Rev. T. C. Harper, pastor of the church, presented an historical sketch.

Fifty men and women were present in the "Old Timers" Christian Endeavor society meeting at 6:30 p. m. Twenty one answered to the calling of the roll as of 25 years ago. M. C. Kirkwood, president; Miss Carrie Lamaster, secretary; and Mrs. Bessie Long were in charge of the program.

The evening meeting was featured by an interesting address by Bishop Clippinger on "Music," and by a brilliant concert of organ numbers played by John Klein, Columbus.

The new organ, which has been installed as an anniversary memorial, was then dedicated by Bishop Clippinger, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Harper. The entire cost of the organ had been provided by the many gifts of members of the church and friends.

A collection of shrubbery, gift of the Loyal Daughters Sunday School class, was dedicated at the Sunday rites.

Large crowds attended all services.

Bricker's Advice May Be Asked In Relief Crisis

COLUMBUS, March 27—Drafting legislation to replenish empty relief coffers in metropolitan areas without incurring the enmity of financially comfortable rural sections was the difficult task which today faced the joint legislative committee on relief.

Admittedly stumped by the perplexing problem, the committee considered asking Governor Bricker's advice on how best to word the long range poor relief bill demanded by a legislative resolution.

With its report due by April 1, the committee planned an executive session today to study data and suggestions compiled last week during a series of public hearings.

SOCIAL SECURITY ACT REVISIONS GAIN SUPPORT

WASHINGTON, March 27—Additional revision of the Social Security Act to help the small businessman was proposed today as congressional leaders hailed modification of its tax schedule as a definite step toward business ap- peasement.

Senators Byrnes (D) of South Carolina, chairman of the senate unemployment and relief committee, said he was drafting the pro- posals, to aid "the little fellow." They include provisions which would ease administration of social security taxes, eliminate confusion over tax schedules, and provide for refund of penalties in some instances.

"Such a program," Byrnes said "would go hand in hand with the proposed revision of the Social Security Act regarding the changes in the social security taxes."

There is much confusion on the part of all businessmen, Byrnes added, as to "who is subject to taxes and who isn't." He said he would change regulations to simplify collection of the social security taxes and would make refunds from the treasury to those who have "innocently" violated complicated forms and regulations.

Even if W.P.A. rolls remain unchanged, the committee would have to figure on a relief outlay of "about $2,000,000 monthly," Van Schoick said, whereas the administration insists that annual relief expenses should not exceed $10,000,000.

A significant factor at last week's public hearings revolved around the absence from committee sessions of rural county representatives. Chief speakers before the committee were from industrial cities—Cleveland, Akron and Canton—who iterated and reiterated the need for a source from which to obtain relief matching funds.

Rurals Not Worried

Several rural members of the house of representatives indicated that their localities were not viewing the relief situation with alarm because their financial condition gave no cause for immediate worry. The rural areas, however, have expressed unwillingness to shoulder relief cares of municipalities.

A collection of shrubbery, gift of the Loyal Daughters Sunday School class, was dedicated at the Sunday rites.

Large crowds attended all services.

HULL DECLARES HE AND F. D. R. IN FULL ACCORD

State Secretary Discounts Rumors He May Leave Cabinet Post

WASHINGTON, March 27—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today conquered another epidemic of rumors, picturing him as splitting with President Roosevelt on international policies and about to leave the cabinet.

Friends of Hull assert he and the President are in complete accord on America's foreign policies. They add Hull proposes to remain in the cabinet until the end of Mr. Roosevelt's term.

The accord between the President and the head of his cabinet was emphasized over the weekend by Hull's friends. Observers regarded the barrage as an effort by Hull to kill rumors he is about to take a "less active part" in handling foreign affairs with under-Secretary Sumner Welles taking on "greater responsibilities."

One story, reported to have aroused Hull's deepest wrath, pictured him as having been displaced by Welles as the President's foremost adviser on international affairs. Another, that also made the secretary angry, was that he left Washington when the Czechoslovakian crisis developed because he did not agree with the government's condemnation of Hitler.

Author of Statement

On the contrary, Hull told his friends, he was forced to leave for a brief vacation because he was suffering from an attack of grippe that threatened to develop into pneumonia. The secretary asserted he himself initiated the statement of American policy, issued by Acting Secretary Welles, which called Hitler's seizure of Czechoslovakia an act of "wanton lawlessness."

It is recalled that Hull, on returning to Washington, issued a statement to his press conference that shed no light on international affairs but stressed the secretary's "temporary absence" from the capital and his "shock" over Hitler's aggressions. He used the "wanton lawlessness" with careful emphasis.

The rumors of a Roosevelt-Hull split might have died naturally as they have often in the past but this time, the 67-year-old Tennessean took the offensive against them. One of his closest friends was asked why Hull was so agitated over the rumors of a "split" now, when he had ignored them so many times in the past. The friend replied:

"Because Mr. Hull is loyal enough to the President and wise enough diplomatically to know the United States must present a united front to Germany. It just got under his skin when some columnist wrote he was not in accord with the government's condemnation of the German seizure of Czechoslovakia as 'wanton lawlessness,' when as a matter of fact he originated the phrase."

In Complete Accord "Mr. Hull also felt that if the

SIX STEPS TO MORE SMOKING PLEASURE

AGEING—Chesterfield's mild ripe tobaccos, like fine wines, are aged for two or more years in huge wooden casks. Here they gradually acquire that true Chesterfield mildness and better taste which give millions of smokers more pleasure.

STEMMING—"Almost human" is what they say about the interesting stemming machines, whose fingers pick up the tobacco, leaf by leaf and take out the stem, leaving only the mild, tender, good-tasting part of the leaf to go into the making of Chesterfields.

BLENDING—There is only one Chesterfield blend...the blend that can't be copied...a happy combination of the world's best American and Turkish tobaccos. Just the right proportions to make Chesterfield a milder, better-tasting cigarette.

PAPER—Every Chesterfield you smoke is wrapped in pure cigarette paper...the finest cigarette paper made. That's another reason why Chesterfields are milder and better-tasting.

THREE SERVICES CONCLUDE WEEK OF U. B. CHURCH CENTENNIAL OBSERVANCE

BISHOP SPEAKS, ORGAN PLAYED AT DEDICATION

Thirteen Members For 50 Years Or Longer Honored During Morning

Three services, Sunday, completed the week of anniversary services in the United Brethren church which has enjoyed a continuous existence for 100 years.

The speaker for the morning program was Bishop A. R. Clippinger, of Dayton, O. His subject was "The Well by the Gate." It was based on King David's cry in the heat of battle for a "drink from the well by the gate of Jerusalem." The bishop said that while there are many things we can secure there are others that are impossible for us to regain, such as one's youth, the former associations of home, the opportunities allowed to slip by unheeded.

"Some experiences," he pointed out, "are enjoyed only in memory. Age is a time of retrospect and the same is true of anniversaries. The present," he said, "offers a real challenge to lay well the foundations of character."

Thirteen persons who have been members of the church for 50 years or more were honored at this service with a gift of American Beauty roses by Miss Charlotte McEwing in memory of her mother and grandmother. Those honored were Mrs. Ella Lamaster, Mrs. Artie Rowe, Mrs. Dora Baker, Mrs. Maggie Smith, Mrs. Minnie Eldridge, Mrs. Rose Gard, George Denman, E. S. Neudling, Abraham May, Harry C. Baker, C. H. Eldridge, Mrs. Clara Denman and Mrs. Rose Hartman. There were 26 persons present who were more than 70 years of age. All were honored guests at the dinner served in the community house at noon.

Greetings Voiced

At the 2 p. m. fellowship service, greetings were brought by the Revs. L. S. Metzler, Circleville; O. W. Smith, Ashville; O. W. Stockman, Waverly; Robert Gehr, Rushville; Ernest Seymour, Carroll, and C. F. Bowman, pastor of the Circleville Methodist church.

Letters of greeting were read from the Rev. Ewing Ross of Vanderbilt University; the Rev. Peter Wagner of Cedar Rapids, Ia., a former pastor, and the Rev. William Kuhn, a former member of the church now associate rector of St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church of Chicago. A number of visiting members were recognized and spoke briefly. Among them were Mrs. C. H. Denman, Mrs. O. W. Johnson, Mrs. O. E. Fellows, Miss Etta Hanna, and Mrs. Edna Brown of Columbus; Denny Fuller of Oxford, O.; Fred Holland of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. L. Kuhn of Chillicothe and Thomas Shepherd of Robtown.

The Rev. P. E. Wright of Lancaster delivered the main address. The Rev. T. C. Harper, pastor of the church, presented an historical sketch.

Fifty men and women were present in the "Old Timers" Christian Endeavor society meeting at 6:30 p. m. Twenty one answered to the calling of the roll as of 25 years ago. M. C. Kirkwood, president; Miss Carrie Lamaster, secretary, and Mrs. Bessie Long were in charge of the program.

The evening meeting was featured by an interesting address by Bishop Clippinger on "Music," and by a brilliant concert of organ numbers played by John Klein, Columbus.

The new organ, which has been installed as an anniversary memorial, was then dedicated by Bishop Clippinger, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Harper. The entire cost of the organ had been provided by the many gifts of members of the church and friends.

A collection of shrubbery, gift of the Loyal Daughters Sunday School class, was dedicated at the Sunday rites.

Large crowds attended all services.

HULL DECLARES HE AND F. D. R. IN FULL ACCORD

State Secretary Discounts
Rumors He May Leave
Cabinet Post

WASHINGTON, March 27—Secretary of State Cordell Hull today conquered another epidemic of rumors, picturing him as splitting with President Roosevelt on international policies and about to leave the cabinet.

Friends of Hull assert he and the President are in complete accord on America's foreign policies. They add Hull proposes to remain in the cabinet until the end of Mr. Roosevelt's term.

The accord between the President and the head of his cabinet was emphasized over the weekend by Hull's friends. Observers regarded the barrage as an effort by Hull to kill rumors he is about to take a "less active part" in handling foreign affairs with under-Secretary Sumner Welles taking on "greater responsibilities."

One story, reported to have aroused Hull's deepest wrath, pictured him as having been displaced by Welles as the President's foremost adviser on international affairs. Another, that also made the secretary angry, was that he left Washington when the Czechoslovakian crisis developed because he did not agree with the government's condemnation of Hitler.

Author of Statement

Admittedly stumped by the perplexing problem, the committee considered asking Governor Bricker's advice on how best to word the long range poor relief bill demanded by a legislative resolution.

With its report due by April 1, the committee planned an executive session today to study data and suggestions compiled last week during a series of public hearings.

SOCIAL SECURITY ACT REVISIONS GAIN SUPPORT

WASHINGTON, March 27—Additional revision of the Social Security Act to help the small businessman was proposed today as congressional leaders hailed modification of its tax schedule as a definite step toward business appeasement.

The latter method of raising relief revenue, according to Sen. Lawrence Kane (R-Cincinnati), committee chairman, was about the only way cities could accumulate matching funds without imposing new taxes. Auto tag and gas tax fund diversion, however, was bitterly contested by rural counties who sent scores of protesting petitions to the committee.

Before drawing up and submitting its final report, the committee was expected to ascertain just what the W.P.A. intends to do in Ohio within the next few months. Failure of the governmental relief agency to maintain its present personnel load in the state will skyrocket annual relief expenditures to nearly $30,000,000, according to O. P. Van Schoick, chief relief examiner in the state auditor's office.

Even if W.P.A. rolls remain unchanged, the committee would have to figure on a relief outlay of about $2,000,000 monthly." Van Schoick said, whereas the administration insists that annual relief expenses should not exceed $10,000,000.

A significant factor at last week's public hearings revolved around the absence from committee sessions of rural county representatives. Chief speakers before the committee were from industrial cities—Cleveland, Akron and Canton—who iterated and reiterated the need for a source from which to obtain relief matching funds.

Rurals Not Worried

Several rural members of the house of representatives indicated that their localities were not viewing the relief situation with alarm because their financial condition gave no cause for immediate worry. The rural areas, however, have expressed unwillingness to shoulder relief cares of municipalities.

A collection of shrubbery, gift of the Loyal Daughters Sunday School class, was dedicated at the Sunday rites.

Large crowds attended all services.
